RUSSIAN ARMY CHANGES.

Held to Indicate End of Heavy Fight- rality. ing for This Year.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 7.—The army organ Sunday published a long list of new commanders in the far East, including the appointments of Generals Linevitch and Kaulbars to the First and Third armies respectively. Generals Kutnevitch and Selivanoff will command the Twenty-second and Thirty-seventh divisions of the First corps whose chief, General Meyendorff, is resigning on account of ill-health. General Slouchevsky, commander of the Tenth corps, has also resigned and the campaign being practically closed it is expected that he will be succeeded by General Jzepetsky.

The sweeping character of these changes may imply that there is no intention on General Kuropatkin's part to assume the offensive during this year's campaign unless an exceedingly favorable opportunity offers. Indeed, it begins to look like a deadlock below Mukden for the winter unless Port Arthur falls or the Japanese abandon the idea of renewing the assault upon the fortress there and settle down to a regular siege, either of vantage from the controversy give the preponderance necessary to Parker. try to force the Russians out of Mukden. RUSSIAN ARMY CHANGES. Held to Indicate End of Heavy Fighting for This Year. St. Petersburg, Nov. 7.-The army organ Sunday published a long list of new commanders in the far East, including the appointments of Generals Linevitch and Kaulbars to the First and Third armies respectively. Generals Kutnevitch and Selivanoff will command the Twenty-second and Thirty-seventh divisions of the First corps whose chief, General Meyendorff, is resigning on account of ill-health. General Slouchevsky, commander of the Tenth corps, has also resigned and it is expected that he will be succeed- on the Sunday preceding the election, ed by General Jzepetsky.

The sweeping character of these changes may imply that there is no Republicans discussing the letter of intention on General Kuropatkin's President Roosevelt and the speeches part to assume the offensive during of Judge Parker. Rought and sold for cash or carried on reasonable ceedingly favorable opportunity offers. Indeed, it begins to look like a deadlock below Mukden for the winter unless Port Arthur falls or the Japanese less Port Arthur falls or the Japanese abandon the idea of renewing the assault upon the fortress there and settry to force the Russians out of Mukden. In fact, the latest dispatches from the front indicate some such move is preparing, though the best opinion at the war office holds to the view that there is not likely to be another big battle this year.

SALE

This will be the First Genuine Great Stove Sale ever held in Brainerd; the particular difference between this sale and the many other sales going on at the present time, is that we do not oblige you to pay spot cash to get the benefit of it.

We have fifty-one different kinds of Heaters and six varieties of Ranges and we have to keep about five hundred stoves on hand to back up thes samples, and our store is so crowded with goods that we haven't room even to show such a large variety of samples.

What we want to do this fall is to close out this entire stock so as to start in next season with a smaller variety and consequently smaller stock. We would rather sell all of these stoves on the installment plan than to sell only part of them for cash and carry the balance over another year, and we would rather you would have the use and comfort of a good Heater or Range and pay for it at your convenience than to keep them in our warehouse where they are doing no one any good.

It is rather an unusual proceeding to offer goods on the installment plan at a closing out sale, therefore we have explained our reasons as above, to convince you that we mean business.

year is entirely new as to scenery and equipment and with the biggest and best company which Miss Rose Melville, who has made the title character famous the world over, has ever had. This will be the attraction at the Brainerd opera house on Thursday evening, Nov. 10. It will be the same "Sis Hopkins" as of old but in a new dress, and there are new faces in the company.

The story of the life of this simpleminded girl of Posey county, Indiana, will be told this season as it has never been told before and the sweet simplicity of the home life of those quaint people of rural Indiana, about whom James Whitcomb Riley so loves to write, will be shown in a most artistic and realistic manner. There is a something about bers in the three acts of the opera, "Sis Hopkins" which appeals to the heart. It is all so sweet and so natural and yet, with all the pathos which has made this play one of the best liked in the country, there is none of it which is depressing, for the quaint comedy which pervades the piece is used to counterbalance the pathetic incidents. There is nothing funnier anywhere on the stage than the "snakentine" dance of Sis at the boarding school where she libretto of "The Pincess Chic" is from goes to take her first lessons in "being like other people." This will be Miss Melville's sixth season as "Sis Hopkins" Shelle is a trained newspaper man, and and they have all been seasons of unbroken and brilliant successes. The seat sale opens at H. P. PRAISE FOR DUNN

President of the Duluth Trades and Labor Assembly Favors the Republican Candidate.

"While opposed to action along political lines by laboring organizations, unless done in concert by all unions," said Henry Perreault, president of the Duluth Trades and Labor assembly, yesterday, "judging from reports coming from various parts of the state, laboring men of Minnesota are supporting Robert C. Dunn, as individuals, in the gubernator-

"Mr. Dunn carries a union card, being an honorary member of the International Typographical union. For several years he was prominently identified with the St. Paul local, of which he was an active member.

"We do not desire men in office who will discriminate in favor of either lathe people and those men who will not discriminate in favor of either class are the ones we desire. Mr. Dunn, from the fact that he is affiliated with organized labor, can only be construed as a friend of the cause. He has never prosecuted a fight in its behalf and on the other hand he has never shown a desire to discriminate in favor of employers. We must strike a middle ground in our attempts to place men in offices, those who will be just to both sides.

"Duluth unions particularly have been opposed to action along political lines. In the trades and labor assembly outside the discussions of the body.

"Individually, however, I and many other exponents of union labor in Duluth have been doing personal work in support of the Princeton man. I believe Mr. Dunn is a ideal candidate and a people's favorite. While I have not, except as an individual, endeavored to influence voters in Mr. Dunn's behalf, I believe that the laboring people of the state are for him.

"While I can boast of no personal acquaintance with Mr. Ounn I believe him to be a frank, upright and honest man, an efficient officer and one who has the best interests of the people at heart.

"I think the attacks made upon him by the opposition are unjust and that many democrats, in the ranks of the union men, are planning to cast their votes for him."-Duluth News-Tribune.

RAILWAY MAPS.

They Are a Valuable Aid and Guide to the Traveling Public.

Robert Louis Stevenson, one of the most notable English writers known to the present generation, was wont to say that nothing interested him more than the perusal of a good map, and without doubt a map that is well made and accurate catches the eye and arrests the attention of many people as few other things can do.

The men in charge of railway traffic possess a most positive appreciation of this fact, and a large expenditure of time and skillful thought is made on this feature of railway publicity.

Said an official of the Chicago and Northwestern railway while talking on this subject: "There is no doubt that the American railway map engraver borders of perfection. I do not know of any road maps or other detailed data for the state of Wisconsin, for instance, that equal those published by our passenger department, showing the haunts of summer tourists and fishermen. They are on file in public libraries as part of their reference records. Other portions of the western country have been similarly taken up by our people and maps of a most complete character made for themin fact, the western lines are fully alive to the value of a good map in the hands of the traveler. The map publishing business of the large railway systems is today reduced to scientific principles and handled in a most syscematic manner."

MEN WITH LONG HAIR.

When British Soldiers Were First Forbidden to Wear Curls.

Matthew of Westminster tells us that in 1127 Henry I. ordered all the soldiers of England to cut their hair a proper length and not wear it like women. This custom of wearing hair like women rose, according to William of Malmesbury, in the reign of William the red king. Young men, he says, then endeavored to rival women in delicacy of person, to mince their

William of Malmesbury does not mention the edict of Henry I., but he relates that in 1128 a certain knight who prided himself on the luxuriancy of his tresses, having dreamed that he was strangled by them, cut them off immediately on waking.

This example, he adds, throughout England, and almost all military men allowed their hair to be cropped a proper length. But, alas, this decency did not continue long, for scarcely a year expired ere all who thought themselves courtly lapsed into 119tf their former folly, and those who had no natural curls put on false ones .-London Standard.

Time was when the ambition of the callow college swell was a chrysanthemum. He aped the man of fashion. Now that is all changed. The man of fashion wears violets in the morning, and he wears violets in the afternoon. A post luncheon addition is a gardenia nestling snugly among pale blue violets. An orchid violet in hue may likewise be used to vary the beautiful monotony. This is one of the changes ev ident today on Fifth avenue and on Broadway in New York. The fall fashions in posies now are in force.

Here's what an ultrafashionable florist who knows all about it said re-

"No gentleman or gentlewoman ever wears roses on the street. That's a relic of barbarism in which smart persons have no part. Chrysanthemums never now adorn a gentleman's buttonhole, and rarely are they worn by gentlewomen. They have reached their proper place as a decorative church or house flower. Solid colors in white. yellow and pink are smart for church weddings and house functions. Autumn foliage, oak leaves and the like are their natural accompaniments.

JAPANESE WAR GARDENING.

Scenes of the Conflict Reproduced In Miniature Designs.

Japan's war with Russia has also suggested a variety of new designs for that charming object the toko-niwa, or "alcove garden," says the late Lafcadio Hearn in the Atlantic Magazine for rial, and placed in the alcove of a guest room by way of decoration. You may see there a tiny pond, a streamlet crosstern, dwarf trees forming a grove and shading the model of a Shinto temple, terns-perhaps even the appearance of a hamlet of thatched cottages. If the toko-niwa be not too small you may see real fish swimming in the pond or a pet tortoise crawling among the rock work. Sometimes the garden represents Horai and the palace of the drag-

Two new varieties have come into fashion. One is a model of Port Arthur, showing the harbor and the forts, and with the materials for the display there is sold a little map showing how to place certain tiny battleships representing the imprisoned and the investing fleets. The other toko-niwa represents a Korean or Chinese landscape, with hill ranges and rivers and woods, and the appearance of a battle is created by masses of toy soldiers-cavalry, infantry and artillery-in all positions of attack and defense. Minute forts of baked clay, bristling with cannon about the size of small pins, occupy elevated positions. When properly arranged the effect is panoramic. The soldiers in the foreground are about an inch long, those a little farther away about half as long, and those upon the hills are no larger than flies.

Britain's Triumph In Tibet.

As a result of the British expedition an agreement has been established whereby Tibet, while still nominally a part of the Chinese empire, virtually passes under the suzerainty of Great Britain, says the Army and Navy Journal. Lassa will thus become a center of British influence in Asia. A new neutral state will grow up to serve as a buffer for the northwest frontier of British India against the long dreamed invasion of that region by Russia, and the Buddhist millions of China, Mongolia, Burma, Manchuria and Siam will learn to think of the head of their mystic religion-more their god than Over 80,000 of Alabama's 100,000 their high priest—as the agent and representative of British power.

perceptible change in the political situation in Indiana. The leaders of both parties appear confident that their work has been brought to a successful conclusion.

The vice presidential candidacy of Senator Fairbanks, the coincident candidacy for re-election of Senator Beveridge, and the possibility of the election of the Republican national ticket has injected into the political situation in this state, a peculiar and unusual contingency. The possible necessity for the election of two United States senators has been the incentive for the Democratic state committee to concentrate its efforts upon the legislative ticket. Many prominent Democrats believe the party will make serious inroacs upon Republican strength in the legislative electoral college. The Democrats districts On the other hand prominent Republican leaders are confident the party will have an increased majority in the legislature. Situation in Montana.

Butte, Mont., Nov. 7.—Republican managers predict that Montana will go for Roosevelt by 7,500 plurality, recandidate, if turning J. M. Dixon to congress and electing a Republican legislature. Democratic leaders declare Judge Parker will carry the state by a good majority. The election of Governor J. K. Toole. Dem., is conceded by all parties.

Massachusetts for Roosevelt.

Boston, Nov. 7.-The Democrats, while conceding that President Roosevelt will carry the state, claim that William L. Douglas, Democratic candidate for governor, will be elected. Over 80,000 of Alabama's 100,000 votes will go to Parker. Republicans claim Rhode Island for Roosevelt by 10,000 plurality. Roosevelt is expected to have a plurality of 25,000 in Maine. Both Democrats and Republicans are confident of carrying West Virginia. J. W. Folk (Dem.) will probably be elected governor of Missouri, and Parker is expected to carry the state.

New Hampshire is claimed by the bounds, Republicans, though the Democrats say their candidate for governor will be elected. Seemingly the only question in

FASHION'S FLOWERS.

Violets, Orchids, Gardenias, In Vogue. Chrysanthemum's Enell Sounded.

When fashion's fancy says 'tis so And then insists that it shall be, The rarest, fairest bloom must go-Sweet victim to her harsh decree. -Tucker's "Fashion."

It's all settled and fixed. Fashion has arranged it. The knell of the chrysanthemum as a buttonhole ornament has sounded. To wear one of the great shaggy blooms on one's coat lapel now stamps one as in bad form, says the New York Mail. Fashion has even made the decree more pronounced. A male being who decks himself with one or more chrysanthemums Indianapolis, Nov. 7.-There is no in this, the autumn time of 1904, is vul-

Time was when the ambition of the callow college swell was a chrysanthemum. He aped the man of fashion. Now that is all changed. The man of fashion wears violets in the morning, and he wears violets in the afternoon A post luncheon addition is a gardenia nestling snugly among pale blue violets. An orchid violet in hue may likewise be used to vary the beautiful monotony. This is one of the changes evident today on Fifth avenue and on Broadway in New York. The fall fashions in posies now are in force.

Here's what an ultrafashionable florist who knows all about it said re-

"No gentleman or gentlewoman ever wears roses on the street. That's a relic of barbarism in which smart persons have no part. Chrysanthemums never now adorn a gentleman's buttonhole, and rarely are they worn by gentlewomen. They have reached their proper place as a decorative church or house flower. Solid colors in white, yellow and pink are smart for church weddings and house functions. Autumn foliage, oak leaves and the like are their natural accompaniments.

"Violets and orchids divide the honors for street wear with modish femininity. The bunches of violets at the corsage are varied by the addition in the center of a spray of lilies of the valley or violet orchids. Virtually no other flowers are worn by smart persons.

The particular sort of violet is quite as important as the flower itself. The Maria Louise, a heavy scented, double violet, and the Lady Campbell, which is more delicate in shade than the Parme, have the call. Parme violets are about out of the market, these varieties having succeeded them.

JAPANESE WAR GARDENING.

Scenes of the Conflict Reproduced In Miniature Designs. Japan's war with Russia has also suggested a variety of new designs for that charming object the toko-niwa, or "alcove garden," says the late Lafcadio Hearn in the Atlantic Magazine for State Chairman Penrose predicts a November. This is a miniature garplurality of from 300,000 to 325,000 for den perhaps less than two feet square, the national ticket and the same vote contrived within an ornamental shallow basin of porcelain or other mate rial, and placed in the alcove of a guest room by way of decoration. You may see there a tiny pond, a streamlet crossopposition in the Republican ranks to ed by humped bridges of Chinese pattern, dwarf trees forming a grove and shading the model of a Shinto temple, imitations in baked clay of stone lanterns-perhaps even the appearance of a hamlet of thatched cottages. If the toko-niwa be not too small you may see real fish swimming in the pond or a pet tortoise crawling among the rock work. Sometimes the garden represents Horai and the palace of the dragon king.

Two new varieties have come into fashion. One is a model of Port Arthur, showing the harbor and the forts, and with the materials for the display there is sold a little map showing how to place certain tiny battleships representing the imprisoned and the investing fleets. The other toko-niwa represents a Korean or Chinese landscape, with hill ranges and rivers and woods, and the appearance of a battle is created by masses of toy soldiers-cavalry, infantry and artillery-in all positions of attack and defense. Minute forts of baked clay, bristling with cannon about the size of small pins, occupy elevated positions. When properly arranged the effect is panoramic. The soldiers in the foreground are about an inch long, those a little farther away about half as long, and those upon the hills are no larger than flies.

Britain's Triumph In Tibet.

As a result of the British expedition an agreement has been established whereby Tibet, while still nominally a part of the Chinese empire, virtually passes under the suzerainty of Great Britain, says the Army and Navy Journal. Lassa will thus become a center of British influence in Asia. A new neutral state will grow up to serve as a buffer for the northwest frontier of British India against the long dreamed invasion of that region by Russia, and the Buddhist millions of China, Mongolia, Burma, Manchuria and Siam will learn to think of the head of their mystic religion-more their god than their high priest-as the agent and representative of British power.

CHAIRMAN CORTELYOU SAYS THE PRESIDENT WILL HAVE AT LEAST 314.

New York, Nov. 7.—There was no extreme activity about political headquarters Sunday, but the managers the campaign with great interest. The a statement claiming with confidence the election of Judge Parker, and also making assertions about the campaign fund of the Republican party. Chairman Cortelyou, although shown a copy of the statement, would make no comment further than to repeat the claim made Saturday night that Mr. Roosevelt would have 314 votes in the electoral college. The Democrats districts On the other hand promiclaim 270 votes.

est is shown on the eve of an election, there was the same quiet that has marked the progress of the canvass. A few groups in cafes discussed the situation and expressed opinions on the result, but there was no excitement nor offers to wager any large sums, which has been a feature of previous elections.

Some opinions were expressed by members of the different committees, their views being that the election would be a landslide for the candidate they support. The wide difference in the estimates of the two committees and the confidence which the managers of both parties expressed caused no little comment.

Newspaper Polls Discussed. There was also discussion upon the newspaper polls and they were indorsed or discredited according to the party bias of the persons who gave an opinion.

Both committees received reports during the day from lieutenants in the field and both claimed that the reports bore out their predictions of success and caused their respective partisans declare with increased confidence their belief in the election of the candidate they supported.

Judge Parker, who closed his tour of speeches at Brooklyn Saturday evening, remained in New York until 6 p. m. Sunday, when he left for

The statement says the Republican campaign fund was $5,000,000, and says neither President Roosevelt nor Chairman Cortelyou had denied that contributions had been accepted from trusts, although they were voluntary and not forced. The statement fur-

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Nothing developed to break the regular Sunday monotony at the Western headquarters of the Republican national committee. The day was spent by those remaining at how large President Roosevelt's majority would be.

There was a report affoat at headquarters that the Republican party would maintain the national quarters of the committee in Washington during the next four years.

The state campaign is still being pushed vigorously by both parties. Each side had a score of mass meet ings Sunday night where everybody spoke claimed a victory next Tuesday for their different candidates. The state leaders on both sides
